

Register Now for the 22nd Annual Family Law Year in Review

Same trusted voices. Expanded expertise. Powered by CEB.

OAKLAND, Calif. (October 15, 2025) — Registration is now open for the preeminent annual event in California family law.

Now powered by CEB, the 22nd annual Family Law Year in Review will continue its decades-long tradition of delivering the most authoritative, engaging, and practical update on the practice of family law in California.

As always, Garrett Dailey will lead the program and will be joined by Judge Mark Juhas and Jillian Duggan-Herd. Together, they will deliver a comprehensive review of the past year's most significant California family law cases, statutes, and rule changes.

The full one-day course is available on January 30, 31 or February 6. Attendees will only need to sign up for one of those days.

Participants can anticipate a fast-paced presentation and discussion that provides clear explanations, strategic considerations, and real-world application tips relating to the latest developments in California family law.

6.5 hours of MCLE and LSCLE credit in Family Law are available to attendees.

How to Attend

Participants have two ticketing options for the 2026 event. They may purchase an event-only ticket or sign up through CEB CLEPassport™. CLEPassport holders will receive access to any of the three webinar dates, on-demand replay, and unlimited access to over 900 California-specific MCLE programs, including more than 80 family law programs.

Save 10% on an individual CLEPassport with code famlaw2025 when purchased by December 1. Firm discounts are also available for the CLEPassport. Contact CEB Customer Support for firm pricing and discounts. Event-only tickets are not eligible for firm pricing or discounts.
